Premium & In-Demand Products

- We carefully select our social enterprise partners for their good works as well as the quality of their goods.
- Curated lines mean that our goods will give your customers a positive impression of your company.
- Custom orders, designs, and new product development will help you capture your organization's vision.

Outstanding Customer Service

- We are as committed to fulfilling our customers' needs and requirements as we are to helping our producing partners.
- We're flexible, reliable and responsive. We'll meet your in-hand dates.

Socially Responsible

- Our products are handmade by our social enterprise partners in the US and Fair Trade Organizations around the world.
- Our partners help individuals overcome barriers to employment and self-sufficiency by providing job opportunities and valuable social programming for those who are disadvantaged, hard-to-hire, and developmentally and physically challenged. While each partner organization has its own purpose, all of our partners are dedicated to helping people improve their lives.

Why source socially responsible products?

"The value of your company is driven by your company's values."
– Howard Schultz, Starbucks

- Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) enhances your organization's reputation while helping others. It builds brand loyalty and engages customers and employees alike.
- We offer our customers opportunities to practice both Environmental and Social Sustainability - an excellent solution for companies seeking to enhance their CSR footprint while helping people around the world better their lives.
- Added value: when you source goods made by social enterprises, you are giving back to their communities while helping individuals improve their lives. Every single purchase makes a tangible difference.
